College Profile

What is the College of Mount St. Joseph educational experience? It's learning through action – serving others, graduate-level research, paid co-op positions, and leadership development. It's a Catholic liberal arts education that helps you develop the knowledge to make a difference and the integrity to lead others.

The foundation of a Mount education comes from career-minded academic programs combined with dedicated support services and a 11:1 student-to-faculty ratio. New programs include a major in interactive media design & computing as well as minors in coaching and Spanish. The Academic Exploration Program, the Learning Center and personal advising are a few examples of the support that is available to help you achieve your academic goals.

At the Mount, you're encouraged to take your lessons outside of the classroom, into the community. Through the Service Learning Program, students earn academic credit while volunteering to feed the hungry, building homes for Habitat for Humanity, or comforting the elderly. The Cultural Immersion program offers the chance to live, learn and work amidst other cultures. The Cooperative Education program, available for all majors, is a way for students to gain valuable, paid career experience while validating their choice of a major.

Student-athletes are among the Mount's most active leaders on campus. Competing in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference, the Mount fields more than 20 NCAA Division III sports teams. The newest lineup, men's volleyball, begins in spring 2010. Students also participate in 30 student-run clubs and organizations including Student Government Association, Black Student Union and MSJ Lions Band.

The Mount is committed to working with students to explore all financial aid options, especially eligibility for financial assistance including scholarships. In 2008-2009, 99 percent of full-time freshmen received some sort of gift aid; more than 10 million dollars in grants and scholarships were received by Mount students.

Cincinnati Spotlights

Students of the College of Mount St. Joseph greatly benefit from the rich heritage and traditions of Cincinnati. While the College is situated 15 minutes west of downtown, employment, arts and entertainment are never too far away.

Numerous Fortune 500 and Fortune 1000 companies are headquartered in Cincinnati. Procter & Gamble, The Kroger Company, and Fifth Third Bank, among others, contribute to Cincinnati's foundation while Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center is among the nations' top children's hospitals. Mount Cooperative Education students are hired by more than 100 hospitals, businesses and nonprofit organizations of Greater Cincinnati.

Boasting a vibrant commitment to the arts, Cincinnatians enjoy the Contemporary Arts Center, Cincinnati Art Museum, Aronoff Center, Cincinnati Playhouse in the Park, Music Hall, and a varied supply of art galleries. Mount students often incorporate Cincinnati's art exhibits and performances into their studies.

Cincinnati knows sports. The Cincinnati Reds, the Major League Baseball team, and the Cincinnati Bengals, of the National Football League, provide competition, entertainment and emotion for the city's sports fans. Co-op and volunteer opportunities with these organizations are often available to Mount students. Cincinnati is also home to the Flying Pig Marathon every May and the Master's and Women's Open tennis tournament every August.

Historical neighborhoods such as Mount Adams, Clifton and Over-the-Rhine make good architectural and cultural adventures, while additional entertainment options are just across the Ohio River in Newport, Covington and Mainstrasse of Northern Kentucky.

Mission in Action

The College of Mount St. Joseph is a Catholic academic community grounded in the spiritual values and vision of its founders, the Sisters of Charity. At the heart of the Mount's mission and heritage is an emphasis on ethical leadership through service. Ethical leadership celebrates the return of virtue, character and personal honor to their rightful place as the foundation of education. This commitment inspires the College's interdisciplinary liberal arts and professional curricula, which equips students to live with integrity, to promote justice, and to seek the truth in their professions and communities.

Service opportunities complement academics and student life while fostering a culture of learning informed by charity. In the Service Learning Program, students apply classroom knowledge while volunteering in social and environmental settings to feed the hungry, build homes for Habitat for Humanity and comfort the elderly. The Cultural Immersion program offers the chance to live, learn and work amidst other cultures. In serving others, students cultivate a greater understanding of social problems, an appreciation for the cultural diversity of other people, as well as a commitment to volunteerism and an understanding of its connection to citizenship.

Campus Ministry infuses all aspects of faith into the Mount's culture and celebrates spiritual exploration. Faith sharing programs, Mass, retreats, and other planned events help awaken and deepen an awareness of God's love and presence within the campus community. Inspired by Catholic social teaching, Campus Ministry encourages students to identify their gifts and to use them for the common good through activities such as Pizza and Ponder, Homelessness Awareness Week, and 30-Hour Famine.

2010 Season Outlook

The Lions look to build on last year's success, after finishing third in the HCAC last season, and Head Coach Joe Sparhawk thinks his team is ready to do that.

"The number one goal this season is to win the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference Tournament," Sparhawk says. "The winner gets the automatic qualifier to the NCAA National Championship Tournament. Based on our third place finish in last year's conference tournament, we will be in a position to play with the top two teams in our conference, which is where we want to be. We seem to step up our game when we are paired with the best teams in the conference.

Before the Mount can start planning their trip to the NCAA Tournament, they must first win their conference, and that means defeating three-time defending champions Transylvania University. According to coach Sparhawk the Lions have a legitimate chance of giving Transylvania a run for their money in the HCAC.

"Our conference is one of the toughest golf conferences in the Midwest, and maybe in the nation," Sparhawk adds. "The winner of the conference tournament always plays very well in the National Tournament, usually not finishing lower than fifteenth. Transylvania is the three-time defending HCAC champion and they are the team we are gunning for. We did beat Transylvania in our home tournament last year, but they got the best of us in the HCAC Tournament. However, teams like Hanover and Defiance played very well this fall and will make the conference tournament even more competitive. We always expect to finish first!"

Top returners for the Mount this fall will be sophomore Will Schau, a captain, and Dean Kruschinski. Schau averaged 77.9 strokes per round, with a low round of 71 and a season-best third place finish at Franklin College. Kruschinski averaged 79.8 strokes per round, shot a low round of 75, and had a season-best finish of fifth at the Taylor Made Invitational. Also among top returners for the Lions will be seniors Chris Lamb and Nick Barlow. Both have been among the top five Mount golfers every year they have been on the team, and play very consistently. Lamb had an eighteen-hole average of 81.1 while Barlow averaged 79.8 shots per round for the 2009 season.

Anticipated strengths for the Mount will involve the underclassmen, there are eight total for the Lions.

"We have five sophomores and three freshmen that have the ability to score low," Sparhawk adds. "They have all the necessary tools to be solid golfers in the HCAC. They will be competing for a top-five spot on our team and this will create competition in practice and will give practice a tournament-like atmosphere. The sense of competitiveness as they play in those areas should carry over to tournament play."

Weaknesses also involve the level of youth on this year's team; Coach Sparhawk also had a few words regarding the dangers of such a young group.

"Even though the four sophomores and three freshmen are very talented, they still lack in experience," he states. "Out of the five sophomores, only two competed in the HCAC tournament last year. Some of the sophomores did not play in all of the tournaments last year and will be unfamiliar with some of the courses. The freshmen have not played any of the courses that we will be playing this spring so it could take a little time to get familiar with the courses. That familiarity can make the difference in a tournament win."

With the youth of the Lions there are several key players that Coach Sparhawk expects to perform well despite being a first year golfer. Sparhawk believes first-year players Chad Beatty, Devin Cain, and Benny Muncy could perform well this spring.

"Chad and Devin played in the fall and both would say they played average at best," Sparhawk says. "However, they did show signs of great play and showed that they have the game to be in the top-five and possibly be an All-Conference golfer. Benny joined the golf team in January. He had a great high school career and I expect him to play very well this spring.

Leadership is a very important part of any team, and since the Mount has so many young golfers the leaders will need to really play well for the Lions, and always play their best and be there to offer advice about the game. Coach Sparhawk will rely on a small group of golfers to be looked towards as leaders of this year's squad.

Every team has specific ideas of what they need to improve on for the season to be considered a success. For the Mount these things include getting around the course in an efficient manner, and putting themselves in a position to score low and win rounds.

"Course management is something that we always work on," Sparhawk says. "Golf is not about hitting your driver off every tee and going for the green every time. Our guys need to think and put themselves in position to use the strengths of their games to get their lowest possible score. Patience is another thing we have to work on. We are very competitive and sometimes we get impatient if we get into a bad situation and we try to hit miraculous shots to try to make birdie, and we end up getting in worse shape. Sometimes bogey is OK. We just need to take the score and move on to the next hole or next shot.

We have enough game and talent that guys can overcome bogeys very quickly. It is the double bogeys or higher that will ruin a good round."

Coach Sparhawk, like many coaches, has certain ideas which he uses to motivate his players and push them to play the best that they can as individuals, and as a team. Coach Sparhawk adheres to the idea that you don't always need to drive the green with your drive, but play at a steady pace, do things consistently, and the rest will fall in place.

"Par is your friend," Sparhawk states. "That is something that I always stress. If you make 18 pars a round, you will most likely win the tournament."

2010 Coaching Staff

Mount in the HCAC

This is the eighth year of competition for the Mount in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference. All HCAC schools, excluding Bluffton University, compete in men's golf with the HCAC Championship at season's end.

The Lions placed eighth in 2003, among eight HCAC teams in the conference tournament, which was won by Franklin College for the second straight season. Anderson University led after the first day of action but was overtaken by a strong Franklin squad in day two for the championship. Ben Chandler led the Mount individually with a 28th place finish. Four of the Mount's five returning golfers competed in the HCAC Championship. The Mount placed eighth at the 2004 HCAC Tournament. All eight of the conference schools participated in the tournament. Franklin College claimed the title, while Bluffton took second. E.J. Engelkamp led the Lions, tying for 10th place with a two-day score of 156.

The 2005 Lions placed eighth in the HCAC Tournament, which was won by Franklin. The Mount did not receive a team score because they only had two players participate in the tournament. In the two-day event, Ken Stamm led the Lions with an overall score of 222 and Casey McMahon scored an overall 240.

In 2006, the Mount recorded a sixth place finish in the HCAC Championship, recording a team score of 734. Franklin claimed its fifth straight HCAC title, outdistancing number two Transylvania by 10 strokes. Steve Pence turned in the best score for the Lions, finishing 27th overall with a 173. Chris Lamb led the way for the Mount in 2007 at the HCAC Championship, placing 18th individually. The Lions, however, slipped a spot to seventh in the team standings from last season's finish. That was, however, their second-best finish as a team in their fifth year of HCAC Championship play. Transylvania claimed the team championship.

While the Lions placed eighth in the team standings in 2008, they did show some improvement. They cut 12 strokes off their team total from the year before. Nick Barlow and Chris Lamb turned in the highest individual finishes for the Mount, with each tying for 22nd place. The Lions solid second round score of 328 saw them turn in their best round of the tournament and a 24 stroke improvement over their first round score. Transylvania once again won the team title, with a 61-shot difference over number two Franklin.

The Lions made tremendous improvement in the 2009 HCAC tournament. Finishing third in the standings, beating last year's total by 75 strokes, posting a 1301 for their tournament final. Shooting a low round of 318 for the tournament, which was 10 strokes lower than last year's lowest round in the tournament. Transylvania claimed the HCAC title for the third year in a row, posting a four day total of 1,233 strokes, with a low round of 303.

Jeremy Nichols turned in a tie for 20th place at the Defiance College Invitational last spring.
